

32Tech Code 39 Barcode Font Pack Order Information

32Tech Code 39 Barcode Font Pack software has two editions. Each edition corresponds to one or more licenses: Standard Edition & Developer Edition

Standard Edition solves the problem of barcode printing on a stand-alone computer. A license is required for each computer this software is installed on. After purchasing the Standard Edition, you will receive all fonts, Office templates, and assistant encoding tools. If you only install this software on one computer, you just need to purchase one Standard License. If you want to install this software on multiple computers, you need to purchase multiple licenses. Besides, we also offer the Organization Distribution License (same as a site license). After you purchase the Organization Distribution License, you may distribute the font files to any reader. One Organization Distribution License is equivalent to 6 or more Standard Licenses, so it is also a Site License. If you purchase the Organization Distribution License, you will have the right to install this software on over 6 computers in your company.

Developer Edition includes all the content of Standard Edition. Besides, as a software developer, you may use 32Tech Code 39 fonts in your own software. Developer Edition has two types of licenses: Small Company License and Unlimited License. Purchase either of them, and you will automatically receive the Organization Distribution License of Standard Edition, and will be able to distribute our fonts along with your software.
